 - Member Oborn: Member Oborn expressed that community college faculty across the state appreciate the webinars that are taking place between POST and the State Chancellor's Office. Member Oborn also commented on the struggles of helping her fellow faculty members and the public understand that her college does not have a POST academy and they only teach administration of justice.
 - Member Webb: Member Webb commented on the defunding of school police throughout the state of California. The Governor established a separate committee to look into and review the role of school police throughout the State, which is primarily made of students. The committee is to submit recommendations to the Governor's Office in October of next year. Member Webb's school is trying to be actively involved in bringing awareness to this issue as there is lack of understanding the role school police departments play in public safety.

- Member Young: Member Young gave a report on the most recent Public Safety Dispatch Advisory Council meeting, which took place virtually. At the meeting, the Council learned about emerging technologies in law enforcement and dispatch that are currently being explored. The Council is looking into demonstrations for Livestream 911 as well as a demonstration for how the drone dispatch at Chula Vista PD is affecting the 911 center. Lastly, the Council also discussed contemporary issues in call-taking for the basic dispatch academy, ensuring that the curriculum is up to date.
- Member Waltz: Member Waltz participated in POST's virtual Training Manager's Symposium and recognized POST staff for all their hard work.
- Member Sandoval: Member Sandoval had a question regarding the Assembly Bill 332 research project that required POST to collect data on firearms and EVOC training for a 6-month period of time. POST collected this data for 12 months and included data on all the different testing that happens in the academy and the failures. Member Sandoval wanted to know when this information will be released. Executive Director Alvarez answered the question, announcing that the information should be released before April 1, 2021.
